

Legion Memorial Building Serves Two-Fold Purpose

Will Be Kingston's War Memorial and Also Service Station from Which Kingston Post Can Operate at Maximum Efficiency—Building Most Suitable Memorial.

The following statement by George W. Potter, Commander of Kingston Post, American Legion, fully expresses the Legion's position in the coming campaign in which Kingstons are interested:

"It has been a source of gratification to me and the other members of Kingston Post to see the hearty cooperation which is manifesting itself in connection with our campaign next week to raise the fund of $35,000 for the erection of the American Legion Memorial Building. Once our full plan is understood we find not only interest but real enthusiasm.

"It should be borne in mind that the erection of this building will serve a two-fold purpose. It will stand as a fitting memorial from the citizens of this community in honor of those who gave, and are still giving, their lives as a result of their service to their country during the World War. It will also have, as a practical use as a home, a base of operations, a 'service station' from which Kingston Post of the American Legion can operate at maximum efficiency.

"We members of the Legion are naturally anxious that an appropriate memorial shall be erected in honor of our departed comrades. We believe the amount asked for would readily be furnished for that purpose. It might be spent in the erection of a monument, a memorial arch, or any of the other usual ways. On the other hand it is becoming customary to give utility to memorials which are erected. We believe that every citizen who is familiar with the work of the Legion and its plans for the future will agree that the use of this building as a Legion home during the existence of the local post will be the most appropriate use which could be made of it during that time. After Kingston Post has passed out of existence the building will still stand as a permanent memorial to be used for whatever purpose the citizens at that time decide.

"The American Legion, with approximately 11,000 posts, has dedicated itself to peace time service. The same bond of comradeship which binds us together in our war service continues to bind us now. The American Legion, and the American Legion alone, has been successful in securing fair treatment of the disabled soldier from the government because it has first hand information of the facts involved and because of its extensive organization has been able, by virtue of its strength, to secure what the citizens of the country intend he should have—proper care, sustenance and an opportunity to earn an honest living. We have ourselves cared for many needy local cases where help was needed and needed quickly.

"We, nationally and locally, are stimulating love of our country, honor for our flag, our laws, and a proper appreciation of the benefits and responsibilities of American citizenship. Kingston Post has been doing its share in all these, and many other, Legion activities, quietly, without wide publicity, but, nevertheless, earnestly and effectively. We shall continue and increase our usefulness in future years. But we are now handicapped by the lack of a proper meeting place. When we have a home of our own, where we can gather frequently under an atmosphere conducive of real cooperation, we are certain that our influence will be widely felt and our purposes more nearly realized.

"I want every citizen to have a part in this campaign. To truly be a memorial building everyone should share in its erection. Kingston Post and its auxiliary have been working for the accomplishment of this project for several years. Notwithstanding the expense of their normal activities the site has been purchased and in addition $5,000 has been set aside toward erecting and furnishing the building. The Legion is furnishing workers for the campaign and members of the post will make individual contributions to the fund. We are now glad to see the citizens co-operating with us to make it what we wish it truly to be—a memorial building erected by the citizens of Kingston and vicinity."

To Issue Renewal Licenses May 18

State Motor Vehicle Bureau Notifies County Clerk Saxe He May Issue Operator's Renewal Licenses—What Operators Must Do.

County Clerk John H. Saxe has been advised by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Albany, that the local motor vehicle bureau at 237 Fair street may start to issue Operator's Renewal Licenses on Monday, May 18.

The new term ends on June 30, 1926, and every person who operates any motor vehicle must have an operator's license or a chauffeur's license and the state inspectors from the bureau will make extra efforts to see that the law is complied with.

In order to avoid the rush for operator's licenses the early date for issuing them is announced and residents of the city and towns should do their shopping early and fill out their blanks, which have arrived and avoid the last moment congestion as of last year.

The application blank contains two stubs which must not be detached, one being the operator's license and the other the operator's renewal stub, both to be filled out by the applicant. The renewal stub must remain attached to the license until application for renewal for the year 1926-27 is made. Cash or postage stamps must not be sent by mail.

England Ready to Stand by Terms

Prepared to Carry Out Agreement in Paying War Debt to America, but Will Expect Better Terms if France Gets Them.

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, May 14.—Great Britain is closely watching the reported Franco-American debt negotiations. It was said in governmental circles today.

Great Britain still is prepared, it was stated, to carry out the policy of Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill that England will expect equal payments from France when it makes payments to the United States on its war debt.

In some quarters the old hope has been aroused that France may obtain terms from the United States better funding terms than those accorded Great Britain. If France does obtain a reduction then England, too, will expect a lower schedule of interest, it was said.

It was conceded in governmental circles, however, that any such concession to Great Britain would be an agreeable, but an entirely unexpected surprise. Churchill already has set aside money for next year's payments to the United States on the British war debt, and did not include in his program any prospective payments from France to England.

The British foreign office said, however, that England would not ask for a reduction in terms if the United States was more lenient with France than it was with Great Britain in interest and time of settlement of the war debt.

It will insist though that France shall pay simultaneously and proportionately with the payments to the United States, the foreign office said.

Straw Hats in Season Friday

Straw hats for men will be in order Friday. Straws this season will be broader brims and lower crowns with a distinctive shade to them that give the full smart look. Most of them have black bands but for the ones wanting them the fancy bands or near bold colors are shown.

The braids are plain and fancy weave. The imported Swiss hat that made such a hit last season will be featured again in the better stores. This hat is very light and can be bent in any shape and straw will not break.

Bleached straws will have the preference, still many men like the unbleached straws and they will still be available. In the hand woven or body hats panamas, leghorns and bangkoks will hold their own as in former years. The lightness of these hats keep them ever popular with the more fastidious wearers. Several new shapes are introduced this year in keeping with the men's fashions such as the fedora and the new dented crown.

State Soldiers' Bonus Claims

Over 10,000 Claims Held Up Because of Defective Affidavits—Relatives of Deceased Veterans Urged to Submit Claims Early.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, May 14.—Upwards of 10,000 claims have been held up by the state soldiers' bonus bureau because of defective affidavits, no proof of residence and submission of more than one application, Captain Frank S. Harris, director, announced today.

An inventory to clean up all of these delayed claims has been ordered by Captain Harris. It is expected that all of them will be settled within the next two months.

Scores of former service men who did not receive claim number shortly after their original applications were filed, immediately filed second and third applications. All of these will have to be weeded out and rechecked before the payments are made, Harris said.

The bonus bureau has been functioning for nearly a year and all claims except those held up because of defects have been paid. Veterans who have not yet filed their claim have until June 1, 1926, under a law passed by the last legislature.

Relatives of deceased veterans are urged by Captain Harris to submit their claim as early as possible so there will be no last minute rush. About 5,000 such claims have been filed since the law providing for a bonus for the next of kin was passed by the 1925 legislature and signed by Governor Smith.

The bonus bureau is operating now with less than half the usual staff and will continue to do so until all the claims have been paid. Members of the bonus commission say the state has made a record in the payment of claims. Part of the bonus quarters have been turned over to Herbert S. Sisson, deputy state census supervisor.

The next of kin of deceased veterans will receive a bonus of $10 for each month the veteran served, the total not to exceed $150. This is the same as that paid to the living veterans.

Plaintiffs Lose in Two Auto Cases

Two Juries in the Supreme Court Decide Plaintiffs Had No Cause of Action—Negligence Denied by All Parties.

A verdict of no cause of action was returned in the supreme court Wednesday afternoon in the action brought by John H. Reichert against Edward O'Hanlon. Mr. Reichert, who resides in this city, sought to recover for damages to his Overland automobile which was struck by the Oldsmobile car of the defendant, who resides at Glens Falls. Mr. Reichert claimed that the Oldsmobile car was being driven at a rapid rate of speed along the Saugerties road and collided with his car while he was driving on his right hand side of the road. The defendant entered a counterclaim for damages to his car, claiming that Mr. Reichert's car was being driven in a negligent manner and that it was driven to the left of the road and caused the collision. The accident took place on the Saugerties road about 10 miles north of Kingston on October 12 last. Van Elton and Cook appeared for plaintiff and Frank W. Brooks for defendant.

The action brought by Crotty Brothers of Veteran against Bertha Soura was concluded at the Wednesday afternoon session of court. Crotty Brothers, who conduct a garage at Veteran, sought damages to their Cadillac car which they claim was damaged when the car of defendant collided with it at the Katsbaan hotel corner. Plaintiffs claim their car was being operated carefully over the Malden turnpike toward Quarryville and that the Franklin sedan of defendant driven by her fifteen year old son came west over the King's Highway from Asbury and attempted to make a left hand turn into the Malden road. The plaintiffs sought $12,000 damages.

Mrs. Soura denied that her car was being operated in a negligent manner and that the driver of plaintiff's car was the cause of the accident. Defendant sought to recover for damages to her car through a counterclaim. The driver of the Franklin denied that he was attempting to make a left hand turn into the Malden road and claimed that when he approached the corner he sounded his horn and proceeded at about 12 miles an hour. As he approached the corner he applied his brakes and slowed down but that the car of the plaintiffs struck his car on the left side and damaged it. He claims that the Cadillac car at the time was not close to its right hand side of the road and next the stone wall as the plaintiff's driver claims, but was well out in the road. On August 2, 1924, when the accident took place, the driver of the Franklin denied that the King's Highway road was closed to traffic and that he was attempting to turn into the Malden road to detour to his home.

Mrs. Soura's son said he had driven cars since he was 10 years old and that at the time of the accident he had no license to operate a car. He had been to Asbury to get ice cream and was returning home. Mrs. Soura said her son had been sent to the garage to wash the car and she did not know he had the car on the road at the time. He had not taken it with her permission but he had frequently driven the car on the back roads while alone but he usually was accompanied by herself when he drove or by another licensed driver.

The case was submitted to the jury late in the afternoon and a verdict of no cause of action was returned.

$200,000,000 to Stop Rum Flow Is Experts' Estimate

Tremendous Naval Force, Manned by Over 7,000 Men, Needed, But Nobody Can Guarantee Ability Then—Question of Appropriations To Come Before Next Congress.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, May 14.—If prohibition and liquor smuggling laws are to be enforced to the letter in the United States the Sixty-ninth Congress must appropriate over $200,000,000 for the job.

That is one of the concrete conclusions of both official and unofficial observers of the government's gigantic drive to exterminate Rum Row. International News Service learned today.

This year cost of enforcement of prohibition laws and operating the coast guard was approximately $40,000,000 and it is highly unlikely that Congress will exceed that figure materially in the next budget, regardless of what experts believe is necessary.

Fleet and Men Needed

A survey of the rum situation disclosed that to afford a tight protection to the coast, the government must maintain a fleet of close to 100 sea going cutters and 200 heavily armed patrol boats and a complement of smaller craft. It would take 7,000 to 10,000 men to man this "navy."

"Even that tremendous force would not be an absolute guarantee that no liquor would come," a high official said. "But it is the minimum force required to do the job right."

To create a prohibition navy of this proportion would mean an initial outlay of $150,000,000. It would cost $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 annually for operation. In addition at least $10,000,000 is needed for land enforcement.

The coast guard now has about 16 cutters. All but four are over 30 years old and soon will be ready for the junk heap, according to information received here. Of the new ones the Mojave is flagship of the prohibition navy and the others on special duties.

These facts will be brought out before Congressional committees when the real story of the rum war is disclosed in the appropriations fight, it was declared.

The tentative coast guard appropriation for 1926 is approximately $20,000,000, $8,000,000 less than in 1925. Ten million dollars is contemplated for land enforcement.

Country Has Big Coast Line

Adequate enforcement of the smuggling laws would require one cruising cutter and two patrol boats for every 100 miles of coast line, according to experts. The coast line not including bays and inlets, is approximately 10,000 miles, although this mileage is increased to 150,000 if all inlets are included.

The government's naval warfare against rum runners is more or less an experiment to determine just how much can be accomplished with the equipment at hand and how much money would be required for absolute enforcement.

General L. C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury and generalissimo of prohibition, wants to know just what men and equipment he would need to really dry up the United States. He will soon make a formal report to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

CITY SPRINGTIME

Mistress Springtime loved the country best of all, but she liked to pay a city visit, too.

"The city people," she said, "should see the trees come out in their best clothes and should see the buds and flowers, too."

So she flew to the city and talked to the trees and talked to the shrubs and plants and flowers in the parks and talked to the flowers in the greenhouses in the parks.

They loved to be encouraged by Mistress Springtime for they loved to dress up and look their best. They were like people—they enjoyed wearing their good clothes once in a while and being admired.

So when Mistress Springtime came to see them they all smiled their best flower-like smiles. The lilies smiled. The primroses smiled.

Even though they were all dressed up in their best they didn't feel contented or spoiled. They were just as sweet as ever.

The branches of all colors, purple and lavender, pink and white, and some of pale yellow, gave everyone the sweetest of sweet greetings.

The bright yellow gladioli shrubs, true shrubs of the sun and of the springtime, glowingly greeted Mistress Springtime.

They Didn't Look Too Gay.

The magnificent rhododendron bushes with their different colored blossoms, the glorious azalea plants, the tulips and jonquils and daffodils all greeted Mistress Springtime.

The tulips were pink and white and red and yellow. How flaming were some of their costumes and yet they didn't look too gay. They knew how to wear bright colors so they looked bright without looking too startling.

Then there were the geraniums and the quaint, sweet mignonettes and every other plant of which you could think.

Mistress Springtime waved at them all.

"Yes," she said, "we follow the same year after year, but really, my dear flowers and plants, you look lovelier than ever this year!"

Some of them Mistress Springtime spoke to by using their long family names, but others she just used the chummy name every one knew. There were, for example, the cyclamen flowers, cup-shaped and yet, in spite of their blossoms standing up, they could look down at the same time. They didn't put on airs even with all their fine names and their stand-up blossoms.

There were paper whites, too, and hydrangeas and then the lovely buttercup flowers or poor man's orchid. Mistress Springtime called these schizanthus. But then Mistress Springtime had a post-graduate course in flower ways and names and habits.

"You do look so like buttercups," she said, "and you do show a decided family resemblance to the orchid family, so that both your every-day names are very good ones."

"Ah, and there are the Metrodorus shrubs. Well, little Bottle Brush, how are you?" For Bottle Brush was their chummy name.

They were red with gilt edges and though they were shaped just so they'd come in most beautifully for cleaning milk bottles and would never dare have the nerve to suggest such a humble, domestic task to so queenly and noble a set of flowers.

Then Mistress Springtime chatted with a tall shrub or tree known as Pieronia Lalandi. Its scent was so sweet. Its blossoms were purple at first, but later, Mistress Springtime said, they would become white with age, and even at this time some, which had been on the tree for awhile, were white, while the new blossoms were purple.

Mistress Springtime said they didn't feel sad, though, at the first sign of age creeping over them.

Then she spoke to a primula, which is a higher form of primrose—a kind of primrose which has made the most of life's opportunities.

There were daisies and ferns and mosses, and rose cactus plants, and euphorbia, or crown of thorns, covered with their crimson flowers.

And to every flower Mistress Springtime waved a greeting and they answered in their sweet, flower language.

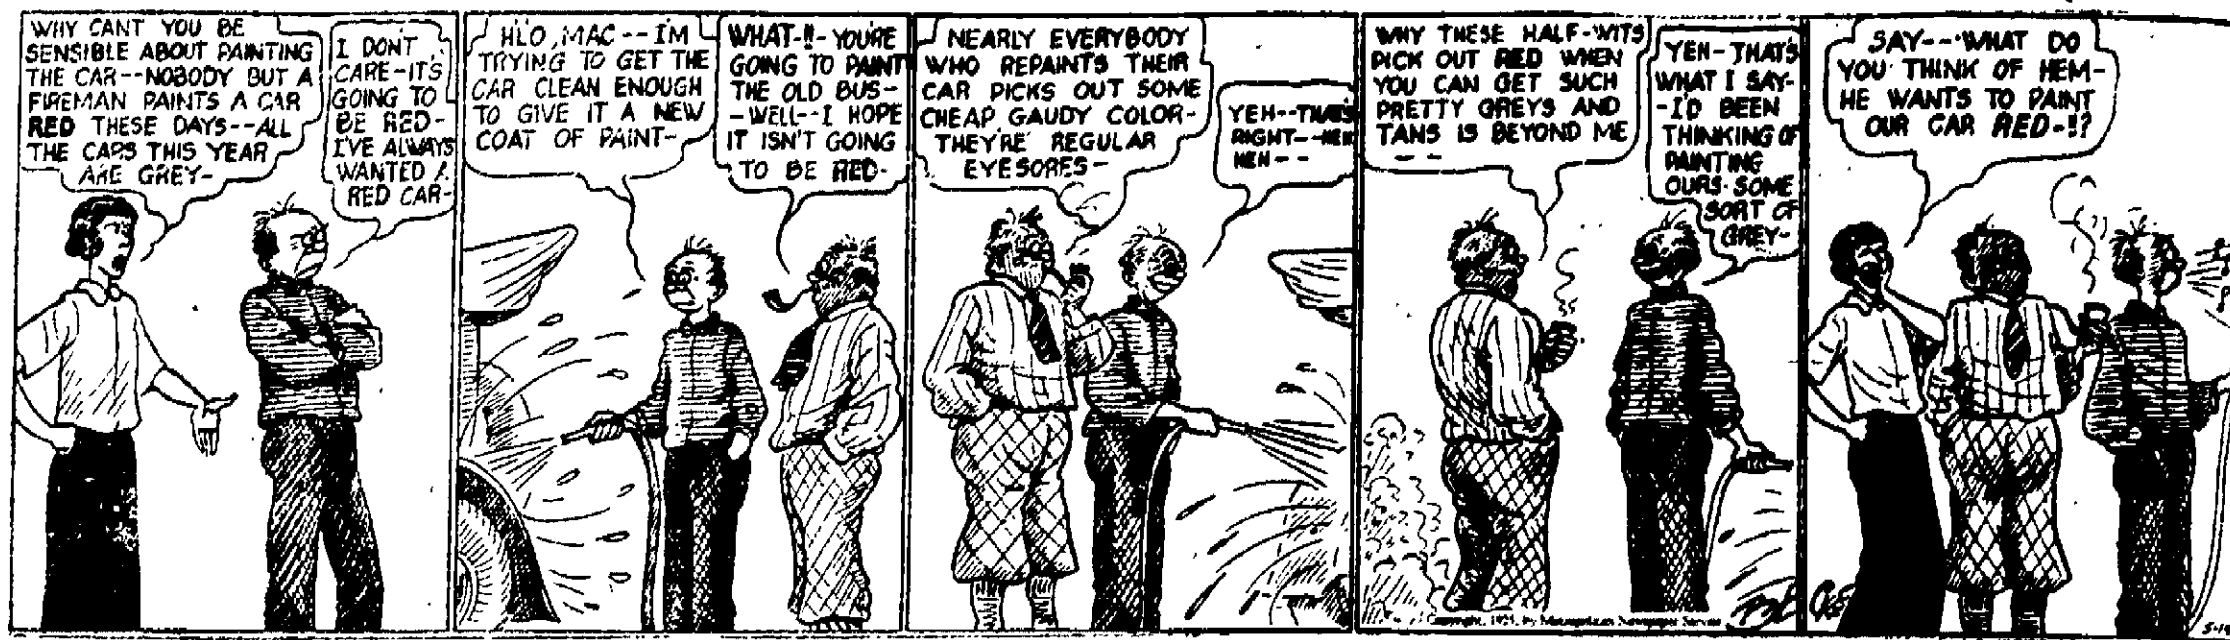

"Let your best for those who don't have talent to gaze at all the time," she said at last.

"We shall, Mistress Springtime, we shall!"

IN 1584 HE SENT TWO SHIPS UNDER AMADAS AND BARLOWE TO EXPLORE THE ATLANTIC COAST FOR AN IDEAL SPOT TO PLANT A COLONY. SAILING UP THE COAST OF NORTH CAROLINA THEY ENTERED PAMlico SOUND AND CAME TO ROANOKE ISLAND.

LANDING ON ROANOKE ISLAND THE TWO AGENTS WERE DELIGHTED WITH THE BEAUTY OF THE PLACE, THE ABUNDANCE OF FRUITS AND FISH AND THE FRIENDLINESS OF THE INDIANS. THEY DID NOT LINGER BUT HURRIED BACK TO ENGLAND TO REPORT TO THEIR EMPLOYER.

WHEN RALEIGH SHOWED THE REPORTS OF AMADAS AND BARLOWE TO QUEEN ELIZABETH AND TOLD HER OF HIS PLANS FOR THE NEW COLONY SHE WAS DELIGHTED AND TO SHOW HER FAVOR SHE MADE RALEIGH A KNIGHT AND NAMED THE NEW LAND "VIRGINIA" IN HONOR OF HERSELF, THE VIRGIN QUEEN.

THE FOLLOWING YEAR RALEIGH SENT RALPH LANE A HUNDRED MEN TO ROANOKE WITH THE REGION MORE THOROUGHLY AND TO LAY OUT A SITE FOR A PERMANENT COLONY. LANE AND HIS MEN EXPLORED THE ROANOKE RIVER AND HEARD FROM THE INDIANS OF CHESAPEAKE BAY.

IN 1585, WITH HIS SUPPLIES RUNNING LOW, LANE DECIDED TO RETURN TO ENGLAND. JUST AT THAT TIME SIR FRANCIS DRAKE CAME TO ROANOKE ON HIS WAY HOME FROM THE WEST INDIES AND TOOK LANE AND HIS MEN ABOARD.

TOMORROW: THE LOST COLONY.

It is not work that divides masses from classes. And sets workers against employers, nor is it money. It is lack of understanding.—Dallas Sharp.

ORDINARY GOOD THINGS

For those who have the heavy meal at noon, supper dishes are quite important. When the noon meal has been a meagre dinner, for supper try this:

Ham and Potato Scallop.—Cut one and one-fourth pounds of ham in to serving sized pieces. Parboil three cups of sliced potatoes, put them in layers with ham in a buttered baking dish and cover each layer with a medium white sauce, using one and one-half cups of the sauce, one and one-half cups of milk and three tablespoons of flour and the same of butter, cooked together; one-half teaspoonful of salt.

Date Loaf.—Take one and one-half cups of graham flour unsifted, one and one-half cups of white flour, one-half cup of sugar, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, one cupful each of chopped dates and nuts, one egg, one and one-half cups of milk and two tablespoonfuls of molasses. Mix in the order given. Bake in a well-greased pan forty-five minutes.

Soft Money Cake.—Add a scant teaspoonful of soda to five tablespoonfuls of boiling water. All the cup with extracted honey. Take one-half cupful of butter; add one egg, two cupfuls of flour and one teaspoonful of ginger; stir and mix well and bake in a sheet in a very slow oven.

Ohio White Cookies.—Cream together one cupful each of sugar and butter; add two well-beaten eggs, a half cupful of milk or cream, a half teaspoonful of nutmeg, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and just four enough to roll very thin. Bake in a quick oven.

Ohio Ginger Cookies.—Take one and one-half cups of shortening, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of sugar, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a scant half cupful of boiling water. Add ginger, cinnamon and cloves to taste. Add flour and chill on ice before rolling. The less flour that can be used, the more moist and tender are the cookies.

RIFTON.

Rifton, May 14.—The entertainment given by the Rifton and Rock Schools was a great success. People from all the surrounding towns were present. The Rifton school was very prettily decorated. Paper roses and chrysanthemums were everywhere in abundance and Japanese lanterns were hung over the electric lights. The stage looked a fairy garden in Japan. The following program was given:

First prize, Rifton School—Dorothy Schirke.

Second prize, Rifton School—Sadie Friedman.

Third prize, Rifton School—Arthur Robinson.

First prize, Rock School—Amy Fradenburg.

Second prize, Rock School—Ernest Terrence.

Third prize, Rock School—Arthur Robinson.

First prize, lower grades, Rifton School—Kathryn Ambrose.

Natural Looking Waves by Water Curl System

If your hair shows the slightest tendency to curl, you should learn to "wet" your own water wave combs and have a more natural-looking curl than the barrel and one that will not injure the hair. Many women try a water wave only once, and, disgusted because the first trial apparently is not satisfactory, give it up. The natural tendency of the hair must be retained by several treatments before good results should be expected. If you have not been having a water wave, go to a professional for a few times to have her start the training of your hair. Watch the way she arranges and fastens the combs to dry. In waving your own hair, part your hair carefully and brush it smooth so that each hair is in place. About two dozen combs are necessary and these should be allowed to stand in hot water before placing them in the hair. If you wear your hair parted, place the first comb a short distance from the part, having the comb follow the direction that you wish the wave to have and with the teeth facing the part. Put in a second comb in line with the first, then a third, and so many more as are necessary to provide a wave that will follow around the part in horseshoe shape. Put in a second row of combs facing the first so that the teeth will lock securely. Place another row of combs in the hair a short distance back of the first, keeping the rows parallel throughout. Set the combs firmly, holding in place with a hairpin if they seem to slip. Continue placing the combs as far down as the wave is desired. When the combs are arranged draw a net over the head, holding it lightly and pinning it in place. Allow the hair to dry thoroughly before removing the combs. This will require an hour with a hair dryer or longer if the heat from the oven is used. Do not comb out for eight hours.

Omair Khayyam's Writings

The word Khayyam is Arabic, and is the plural of khayal, meaning a dream. The word applies to the collection of Persian quatrains. Ed. Omair Khayyam translated 100 of Omair Khayyam's quatrains. It is not known how many of these were actually written by Omair, but about 1000 are found in different works and manuscripts ascribed to him.

Johnson Was Choked to Death

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Syracuse, N. Y., May 14.—Police action in the case of William Johnson of Deacons, N. Y., student at Syracuse University, who was found dying on the porch of a fraternity house, was virtually at a standstill today.

Withdrawal of police from the case followed the announcement of Coroner Herman Weiskotten that an autopsy showed the student had been choked to death. The authorities originally followed the theory that Johnson was the victim of poison liquor, and following his death, started a raid which netted $5,000 in liquor.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

James Wells died today at his home, No. 194 Wilbur avenue. The funeral will take place from his late residence Saturday at 2 p. m., with interment in Elmwood.

The funeral of Theron H. Hotaling was held from the home of his cousin, Mrs. Martin Joyce, No. 66 Henry street, this morning at 3 o'clock and 3:30 at St. Joseph's Church where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Eugene A. Ferguson. At the offertory, Thomas Dolan sang "The Lord's Prayer" and at the conclusion of the Mass Mr. Dolan sang "Gloria" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The bearers were James A. Pheasant, T. J. O'Hara, F. P. Wagoner, Solomon J. Wells, J. J. McElmood and R. Barman. The interment was in the family plot in the Wilbur Rural Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas A. Stone was held from the family residence, Flatbush avenue, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were very largely attended by relatives and friends. The Rev. Wilbur H. Stone, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, read a fitting tribute to the sterling character of the deceased. Mrs. Stone was a devoted member of the Church of the Comforter and of the Ladies' Aid Society for many years. The casket was backed with beautiful floral tributes, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held by a large circle of friends. Interment was in the family plot in Montrose Cemetery.

Francis K. Schoonmaker, for forty years a campaign speaker for the Republican National and State committees, died of apoplexy Monday night in New York. He had been living at one of the branches of the Young Men's Christian Association in Manhattan, and worked with the Rev. Samuel W. Griffin, of the association. He was about eighty years old. In the 70s Mr. Schoonmaker was the publisher of a weekly newspaper in Ellenville, later being associated with the old United Press, both at home and for several years in China, where his interest in Chinese jade made him an expert. The Republican National Committee used Mr. Schoonmaker as a tariff expert on the stump. He was a favorite in New England. Mr. Schoonmaker is survived by a married daughter in California. The New York Tribune says that as soon as Mr. Schoonmaker can be located where Mr. Schoonmaker, who died many years ago, was buried, the place of burial will be announced.

LORD LEVERHULME'S PLAN

Lord Leverhulme, formerly William Hasketh Lever, rose from the bottom—from poor boy to successful packer of soap, and from that to wealthy peer of the realm who granted his factory operatives low rents, short hours and high wages. "Work six hours a day at your maximum capacity of production," he told them, "then study and improve yourselves and I can afford to pay you for eight hours." He could afford this because of his great wealth. He could also afford to build attractive cottages in park-like surroundings and rent them for $2 a month. But can the average employer afford it, and will the average employee put eight hours' work into six hours, afterwards studying and improving himself in the off time gained?

These are some of the questions suggested by Lord Leverhulme's philanthropy. The reflecting inquirer wonders also whether William H. Lever believed in such a system during the many years in which he himself worked "16 hours a day," whether his slowly developing business would have survived such a system, and whether he could have risen to his commercial eminence by working only six hours a day. In his last years Lord Leverhulme's attitude toward his employees was obviously a fatherly one. Like so many fathers who wish to smooth the pathway of their sons, he wished to save his employees from the hard struggle which he was so long in living through. His motives were of the purest, but it may be questioned whether, in giving his employees an easy life as dependents on his bounty, he harmed rather than helped them, checking the cultivation of initiative and weakening the determination to win through persistence which finally made him what he was.

WHY FATHER GOT LICKED.

The story goes that in or in the neighborhood of New Orleans a young woman went riding on her bicycle dressed in white knickerbockers, and her shocked neighbors were so deeply offended that they took her father out and thrashed him. A New York editor thinks the Louisiana censors of feminine dress were either disposed to put the responsibility where it is often said to belong—with parents—or they were influenced by the primitive notion that a whole family is involved by the doings of its one black sheep, as in China where "every member of a family is held by public sentiment, custom, and to some degree by law, to share the guilt of every other member." It does not seem to occur to this editor that civility was concerned in this punishment of a father for the offense of his daughter. In former times it was not uncommon in the South for a male member of a family to be called to account for the offense of a female member, the latter enjoying complete personal immunity because of her sex.

In his comment a London editor comically assumes that it is the usual thing in America for the neighbors to thrash a father when his daughter misbehaves. "All such cases," he says, "go to convince a European skeptic that he will see from the outward tyrannies of Europe only to fall in the Land of the Free into a bondage of which the little finger is thicker than his old servant's joints." No matter what a girl might wear in England, he says, it would be regarded as her own affair "and her father would not be assaulted." Of course this is precisely the American attitude in general, even if the story from New Orleans can be relied on in every particular, which is doubtful.

The only copy in existence of "The Call to the Unconverted," by Richard Baxter, an English clergyman of the time of Cromwell, was sold in London recently for $40,000. Probably the purchaser will not and has no desire to read it, but like other collectors of rare things, he doubtless huck himself with delight in the thought that he alone of all men possesses a copy.

William Jennings Bryan failed in several attempts to become president, but the same he was brought him steady and profitable lecture engagements. He denies that he is a millionaire, but admits that he has been "fortunate in the matter of finances" and has "accumulated" all that he needs. One is reminded of the sage observation of Euripides: "Manifold things unhoped for go to the accomplishment of things, and the things that we looked for the gods bring not to fulfill them."

SHOCK.

One of the embarrassing conditions sometimes encountered is shock. There has been a severe accident, and the injured one, although not completely unconscious, exhibits a pale staring countenance, with the perspiration standing out on the face and forehead.

The breathing is very shallow, and the pulse weak and rapid at first. There is extreme muscular weakness.

Sometimes the shock results in only a slight depression of the vital functions, but in severe shock there is complete collapse, and sometimes death follows.

Ordinarily the patient comes gradually back to normal, strength returns, the heart becomes stronger, the breathing is deeper, and the color comes back to the face.

As to treatment. The first thing you were taught was to have the head a little lower than the rest of the body, and that is still your best treatment. In fact the actual raising of the legs and body so as to cause the blood to gravitate toward the head, is now the usual hospital method.

The patient is then given complete rest in bed, and heat applied to the abdomen, spine and feet.

Hot water bags or hot bricks, well protected, furnish a safe and effective method of applying the heat.

Hot tea or coffee, or other hot drinks, are also helpful.

Massaging the abdomen to send the blood to other parts of the body has likewise been successful in many cases.

Shock is serious, so don't forget to lower the patient's head, and apply heat as above.

Someone has defined shock as a progressive fall of blood pressure due to a paralysis of the muscles in the small arteries. The blood goes into the large veins about the organs of the abdomen, and thus away from the brain, skin and chest.

A MESSAGE TO THE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Editor, The Freeman:

On the eleventh day of May the Kingston High School Varsity played Albany Academy. The attendance of this game numbered about 175, of which the students with the hand and faculty counted not more than fifty, less if anything. Imagine, fifty students of a school of eleven hundred attending the first home game of the season. There are a few who were not or could not be there because of their working. These are excused in the eyes of the team and coach, but the rest of you are not, are classified as slackers. The opinion of most of you is: What's the use of going up, they will be beaten anyway. That is the wrong attitude and spirit for K. H. S. students. Suppose the team began playing with that attitude of "What do we care about the reputation of K. H. S.?" They would lose every game, but, instead, these fellows have determined to uphold the standards of Kingston High. The moment they step on the field their heart and soul go into the fray and their mind is on nothing else but to beat the opposing team.

The people of Kingston who attended the game spoke of the lack of school spirit and cooperation. They saw why the team did not win. Lack of cooperation of the students. Albany had with them at least fifty rooters. At the other game played at Englewood two students who attended most of our games, if not all, went down the day before the game to help cheer the team. They were Big Bill O'Reilly and Sheb Goldberger. Besides these were also a few graduates who go to school near there and not forgetting K. H. S. came up to help cheer the team. At Middletown more of our students backed us up. All of these games were attended by a large audience for the opposing teams. All of these schools have not over an attendance of six hundred.

Why is it that the students of Kingston High School can not back up its national game of sport as well as all other sports? The team when it takes the field is able to feel that students are supporting them, not opposing them. Some of the players when they reached school Monday morning were called Ham. Where do the students of Kingston High School get their nerve to say such a thing when they did not help to cooperate with the team? It is the ones who do not attend the games that yell "Ham!" Not the ones who do.

Doings at the High School

Students Hear Reading of Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln"—Dr. Ute Friday at Nyack—Tennis Team Lost Again—Miss Byrne Returns.

Wednesday morning the students of the Kingston High School were favored by a reading of Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" by Miss Hortense Nielson. Miss Nielson is traveling through the country and reading this play before thousands of people. Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" is considered the best portrayal of the true character of Lincoln ever written. Miss Nielson is presenting this play throughout the country for the benefit of the American people and not for herself. All she asks is money for traveling expenses from place to place. This meant about three cents apiece for each student in the high school. Any surplus from the money received goes to the organization in the high school which most needs it.

The K. H. S. debating team, which has been working hard for the last six weeks, is now ready for the final debate against Nyack High School, to be held Friday evening at Nyack. The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that the Johnson bill, as it relates to Japanese immigration, should be repealed." Several weeks ago the K. H. S. team successfully upheld the negative side of the question against the Poughkeepsie High School at Kingston. Tomorrow evening at Nyack the Kingston team will uphold the affirmative side. The team is as follows: Charlotte Wheeler, first speaker; Mayer Kaplowitz, second; and Elsie Tetley, third, with Bernard Yoepp, as alternate.

On Wednesday afternoon the K. H. S. tennis team was defeated by the St. Stephen's College second team by a 5-2 score, at the Forsyth Park courts. Last Saturday at St. Stephen's, the K. H. S. team was defeated 4-2 by the same team. Although the college lads had a clear advantage of experience and skill, the locals tried hard to avenge the defeat of a week ago. The scores by sets were as follows: (Singles) Captain Herzog of Kingston defeated Dodd of St. Stephen's 6-1, 6-3. Bitner of St. Stephen's defeated Miller of K. H. S. 7-5, 6-4. Powley of Kingston was defeated by Perber of St. Stephen's 6-4, 7-5. Coons of K. H. S. defeated Williams of St. Stephen's 6-0, 7-5, 6-3. Fowler was defeated by Myer of St. Stephen's 7-5, 1-6, 6-0. In the doubles, Coons and Miller, of K. H. S., were defeated by Dodd and Myer of St. Stephen's 6-4, 6-3. Herzog and Fowler, of K. H. S., were beaten by Bitner and Perber, of St. Stephen's, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Miss Helen Byrne, vice president of the K. H. S. senior class and May Queen, who has been confined to her home with scarlet fever for several weeks, returned to school on Wednesday of this week.

Wants to See Action

"My greatest desire," said a Prairie avenue salesman, "is to see someone, some day, use a fire extinguisher. I've been going through the buildings of Detroit for many years and I've seen all sizes and shapes of extinguishers hanging in all possible positions. But never in all this time have I been fortunate enough to witness one in operation. I suppose they are used many times. Perhaps if I continue with my wish I may run into a slight blaze sometime that will give me my thrill. Even better, I may be able to satisfy a greater longing—that of yanking the extinguisher from its moorings and playing it on the blaze myself."—Detroit News.

Sea Deposits Coal

On the beach of Buchhaven in Fife-shire, Scotland, the sea piles up coal some two or three feet thick. From the town come men, women and children with buckets, boxes, bags and wheelbarrows to get the fuel supply. From the country come farmers on their horses with bags to get their shares, according to the Kansas City Times.

The coal is actually mined by the sea. Ground swells break away the seams outcropping in the Firth of Forth and slowly carry the treasure to the shore.

In stormy weather the product greatly increases.

Gold in Canada

Gold was found in the gravel in the bed of a small stream flowing into the Chaudiere river, south of Lévis, province of Quebec, in 1823, by a woman named Gilbert. In Nova Scotia gold was found in 1800 by Captain L. E. Dring while on a mining expedition. Gold-bearing quartz was discovered in 1890. The Richardson mine at Madoc, in Hastings county, was the first gold mine worked in Ontario. The precious metal was discovered by a man named Powell in 1898.

Mother's loving hands....could they harm that helpless baby?

"Never touch a baby unless your hands are germ-free."

The Health Doctor

IT'S HARD TO REMEMBER, sometimes, that germs get on the hands so constantly. Packages and vegetables from outside, the dust from rugs; toys and little shoes you pick up; books and money—from all these—germs get on your hands. Lifebuoy Health Soap guards baby from these invisible dangers on your hands.

Astonishing proof

Dirty hands—the kind of dirt you can see—are convincingly, satisfyingly clean after a Lifebuoy wash. But this test will tell you why millions of mothers have enthusiastic faith in Lifebuoy. Wash with Lifebuoy when your hands are not really dirty—just sticky and uncomfortable. Watch the astonishing amount of dirt that comes off. Where does it come from?

This is not only ordinary surface cleansing. Lifebuoy cleanses differently. It reaches the sticky moisture and body-waste in which germs thrive—the pathogenic dirt other soaps don't seem to touch. Floods it all away. Germs go, too.

Beauty comes

And then—the big joy of skin that lives. Pores are open, breathing, awake. A charming consciousness of immaculacy. Lovely color pulses just below the surface. Day by day, the skin grows softer, smoother.

What a tonic in the bath—and the silky luster of hair Lifebuoy has washed. It's the complete toilet soap for every member of the family. In its new cleanness is beauty—vivacity—and price-less protection.

Tagging Major League Bases

The ancient soup bone of Artie kept held the Reds to only one hit and the Giants won, 3 to 0. The champions are now four and one-half games in front.

Ed Brown did a Frank Merriwell with the bases full and the ensuing four runs enabled the Dodgers to outlast the Cardinals, 9 to 8.

The Pirates came out of their trance and whipped the Braves 8 to 4, due to good pitching by Yde and Kemer. Boston had won five straight.

The amazing Phillies slugged their way to a 6 to 5 victory over the Cubs, whose three homers failed to stem the tide.

"No hit" Charley Robertson whitewashed the Yankees, limiting them to three bingles and six fouls. Only two New York players reached second and they died of loneliness.

Score, Chicago, 4; Yankees, 0. The debut of Pitcher Ray Francis with the Red Sox was an unqualified success—5 to 4, scoring five runs in the first inning and driving Francis from the mound.

The Athletics maintained their merry pace, bowling over the Tigers by a score of 3 to 1.

Washington massacred the Browns, 8 to 1, but Sisler obliged the St. Louis fans by hitting safely in his twenty-eighth consecutive game.

WORCESTER COUNTRY CLUB GOLF TOURNAMENT.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Worcester, Mass., May 14.—Harold B. Chase, chairman of the Worcester Country Club tournament committee, announced today that the Worcester course would measure 1,600 yards for the open championship of the United States to be played there June 3 and 4.

The Worcester course is in splendid condition and will give the players who qualify at Lido, Chicago and San Francisco, one of the hardest tests of golf they have ever faced in the open championships. New tees and many new traps have been added since the eastern qualifying round for the open was played here last year.

The rough, which was light last year, is now heavy and will exact a real penalty from those who stray off the line of play. Practice has already started by a number of players who hope to qualify at Lido. Club members and visitors think that a score of 235 will be good enough to win at Worcester.

ALL STARS PLAY

K. OF C. NINE TONIGHT

Tonight the All Stars and Knights of Columbus ball clubs will meet on the Athletic Field. This is the first game for the Knights but Manager Fitzgerald has been putting his team through stiff practice for the past few weeks and they should be in good trim. The All Stars will depend on their regular lineup with Cragan and Smedes as the battery.

Next Monday the Cornell Club and the All Stars will play on the Athletic Field. The All Stars trimmed the Cornell Club after a hard battle 2-0. Dewey Van Buren was the hero, hitting a home run and a double, while Cragan and Smedes pitched a three-inning shutout.

The same pitchers will start and it will undoubtedly be a very good game.

Governor Al Smith will assist in the ceremonies.

Pittsburgh Fans Desert Team

Trade Which Took Away Maranville and Grimm From Pirates Blamed for Failure—Dreyfuss Still Hopeful.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 14.—Pittsburgh fans, ever a mercurial lot, have turned their backs on the Pirates because of the club's inept performances, and today are calling loudly for somebody's head, preferably that of Barney Dreyfuss.

That worthy, rather than Bill McKechnie, has been blamed for the mid-winter deal, whereby the Pirates gave up 50 per cent of an all star infield and received in return 100 per cent of jolly old Barnum.

The transaction took away "Rabbit" Maranville, the best second baseman in the league last year; Charley Grimm, a gifted first baseman, and Wilbur Cooper, until recently one of baseball's leading left-handers. It brought here Al Niehaus, a minor leaguer, who apparently can neither hit nor field; Grantham, another infielder who got away to a standing start, and Aldridge, a right hand pitcher, who held out so long that he has been of no use to the club to date.

The thing has begun to look as sour as last week's milk, and, before the team ventured into the east, local fans were staying away from Forbes Field in droves. The writer took the trouble to inquire into the local situation today and found apathy rampant, a ten dollar word meaning without restraint.

The populace, it seems, does not mean to rise to another Pirate failure. It saw the Pirates of 1921 all of 7½ games in the lead in September, yet fail to win the pennant. It saw the 1922, 1923 and 1924 clubs apparently headed for the flag only to bog down at critical moments.

Now it finds itself in the position of the man who investigated the cigar clipper with the tip of an inquisitive finger. It is beginning to lose confidence in the situation. Instead of being a contender from the drop of the derby, as indicated by advance calculations, the Pirates first were knocked off by everybody in the west, and then went east to Philadelphia where they fared none too well, if at all.

This record has been taken locally as sufficient proof that the club has lost its collective shirt in the much discussed deal. In fact, the only man who seems to think otherwise is Barney Dreyfuss. He stoutly maintains that time will justify all and, meantime, the club has gone into reverse with great alacrity.

Grantham came here with a reputation of being an indifferent fielder but a good hitter and base runner. In the last named department he has been a disappointment because no one has yet invented a system of successful base running in the dugout. Grantham hasn't hit the size of his neck band and has been out of the lineup for the most part.

But with Niehaus going so poorly, something had to be done; so the chances are good that Grantham will be in there from day to day, regardless of his light hitting.

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh fans are thinking very rugged thoughts about Maranville and Grimm.

MOTHER BOASTS IDEAL DAUGHTERS

Never Spanked or Scolded Them—Brought Them Up "Simply."

Augusta, Me.—This city boasts two good little girls who are still unspanked, are never scolded and whose mother is rearing them on the theory that a child is entitled to the same consideration, dignity and courtesy as any grown-up visitor to the home.

They are Miss Jean Abbott, seven years old, and Miss Carol Abbott, who is five. Their mother is Mrs. Grace P. Abbott, daughter of William R. Putnam, the Democratic candidate for governor of Maine last year.

Mother's ideas on child culture are quite satisfactory and should be extensively adopted, Miss Jean and Miss Carol solemnly assured the reporter who interviewed them. They are remarkably demure young ladies, with quiet assurance far beyond their years. Both are accomplished housekeepers. Their innocent knowledge of its mysteries is startling to least.

Plan Own Affairs.

Jean has been able to build a fire and get breakfast since she was four years old, and now Carol can do the same. They plan their own affairs, make their own social engagements with their young friends and go about things generally like regular "grown-ups."

Self-reliance and responsibility are the foundation stones for her interesting theories on the training of children, Mrs. Abbott explained. In fact, she doesn't believe in training at all, for she regards experience and example as the only satisfactory teachers for any human being of ordinary intelligence, whatever the person's age may be.

Those who quote: "Spare the rod and spoil the child," and who consider "children should be seen and not heard" as among the wisest of the old copybook maxims, are not on Mrs. Abbott's visiting list at all. "Because the accident of birth has made one the parent of a child," she said, "does not give one the right to strike that child or to attempt by force and coercion to mold that little body and developing mind to the parent's will."

School System Wrong.

"I think our school system and our conventional ideas on the rearing of children are all wrong. Perhaps I am all wrong, but I am willing to meet my case on the success of my ideas on guiding my own little girls."

The questions Jean and Carol ask are always answered truthfully, and in words their minds can grasp. Mrs. Abbott said. Their greatest ambition is to grow up to be clever, healthy women and to have homes of their own and big families. They are never told they mustn't eat this or do that. The simple truth about the effect on their health of the wrong diet and on their character and future of unwise actions is all that is needed to secure the desired results, their mother declared.

A reporter, who spent several hours with Jean and Carol in their home and elsewhere in Augusta, was amazed by their simple and unaffected manner, their quiet assurance and dignity, their quaintly "grown-up" conversation and their gentle, well-modulated voices.

They play outdoors just as hard as any other children in the neighborhood and get just as much fun out of their dolls and toys. "It's all very simple," explained a neighbor: "Jean and Carol are such good little girls and they never need to be spanked or scolded. But their mother insists it is just the other way around."

Heligola Melting Before As of Waves

Hamburg.—The shores of the island of Heligoland are caving in with startling rapidity. For years the sea has been steadily encroaching on this little island and all that was left of the bathing beach has been almost completely claimed by the sea as its own. Recently a huge slice of approximately 3,000 cubic yards plunged into the sea with a terrific roar.

The villa of a prominent Berlin banker, just completed, is now seriously imperiled, while an adjoining building is being torn down. A solitary garden pavilion hangs on the verge of the precipice as though at any moment it might drop into the depths below.

As the erosions of the waves have of late produced a number of deep crevices in the rocks, it has been found necessary to close the public road over the cliffs.

Give Balfour Scrolls of Ezra and Nehemiah

Jerusalem.—The full text of Ezra and Nehemiah, the two historical records of the Bible that might be termed the "Balfour declaration" of Cyrus, king of Persia, on the return of the Jewish people from Babylon to Palestine, were presented to Lord Balfour. The texts, written in scrolls of parchment, were given to the author of the Balfour declaration by the Zionist executive.

In presenting the scrolls to Lord Balfour in an impressive ceremony, Dr. Chaim Weizmann thanked him on behalf of the Jewish people for his continuous friendship and devotion to the cause of rebuilding Palestine as the Jewish national home.

STATE CELEBRITIES IN NATIONAL ABBEY

Statuary: Famous Show of Capital.

Every state of the Union was represented at the inaugural ceremonies on March 4; visitors from twenty-nine states found great men of their commonwealths memorialized in the Statuary hall of the United States Capitol building.

"Statuary hall, in the older portion of the Capitol, is a room which holds more historic associations than any other chamber in America," writes Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic society.

An unwarranted phrase has made it popular to call Statuary hall a chamber of artistic horrors. Such designation does injustice to the art and the history of the room where the house of representatives met for forty years and which now exemplifies a really fine memorial idea.

Here Lincoln, John Quincy Adams, Horace Greeley and Andrew Johnson served in the same congress. Here Henry Clay welcomed Lafayette, who replied in a speech said to have been written by Clay. Here John Marshall administered the oath of office to Madison and Monroe.

When, in 1825, the house balloted in this room for President, John Quincy Adams won over Andrew Jackson. The former, the only man to be elected to the house after being President, was stricken with paralysis suddenly. In this chamber, after delivering an impassioned address; the latter, while President, narrowly escaped an assassin upon leaving this room, where he had attended the funeral of a congressional friend.

A bronze star marks the location of Adams' desk. The star happened also to denote a spot where one may hear the whisper of a friend who stands in the corresponding position on the opposite side of the hall. Move away from the spot and the speaker's voice fails to carry, even when he speaks loudly.

Closed to visitors now is the narrow gallery of the old house, reached by dark, tortuous steps worn deep by the tread of many feet. In this gallery Dickens gleaned notes for his comments on America's congress. He called Washington "a city of magnificent intentions."

Close your eyes and see John Randolph stalk in, with squirrel cap and homespun suit, white boots and jingling spurs; he has just galloped through muddy streets from Georgetown. Throwing cap and coat to his desk, he drinks a glass of porter handed him by an attendant and cuts in on any debate. In this querulous, piping voice. Here another type of orator, Edward Everett, just out of the pulpit, charmed his hearers. For some years religious services were held in the old hall of representatives on Sunday afternoons; Lincoln attended them during the war period, when the hall was crowded because many churches had been converted into barracks.

The floor of this room was raised to its present level when the hall was converted into an American Westminster abbey. Tradition has it that the lower level of the old floor led to the popular designation of the house of representatives as the "lower house."

When the old hall was deserted for the new, a law was enacted, in 1864, providing that the states could use it as a place to do national honor to the memory of their sons and daughters renowned for civil and military service, each state being entitled to place two statues here.

His First Deer

"Get any deer on your hunting trip, old man?" asked Brown of his friend Perkins, who had been in Maine on his maiden expedition for big bucks.

"One!" replied Perkins, but his voice lacked enthusiasm.

"Tell me all about it," insisted Brown, who was considerably surprised that his friend should have such good luck on a first trip.

"Well, answered Perkins, "it was like this: I think the buck must have been deaf—anyway, the guide and myself got within thirty feet of him, and then I fired my old 45 Springfield, which sounds like a cannon. The buck dropped at the report and didn't move a muscle again. We examined him all over, and there wasn't a mark—I missed him, and the guide said he probably had a weak heart and died from the terrific noise!"—Judge.

With Accessories

There is quite a bit of rivalry up on Maitman avenue, on the edge of Hollywood, over two babies. Little Ethel was quite proud of her tiny sister, and even though it was as bald as the usual run of babies, she thought nothing of it until Frank Atkinson's latest subdivision came into the world.

Little Doris Atkinson viewed the new baby for several days with ever-growing interest and finally went next door to Ethel's. "My gosh," she said, "your mother's baby isn't so much; why, the new one we've got at my house came with a nice black bob already grown!"—Los Angeles Times.

Quail Food

Quail take particular delight in a feast of mulberries. Is the finding of biologists working upon quail investigations in the Southern states. On several occasions quail were observed to fly directly from their nests to the upper branches of a mulberry tree, eat to fill and return immediately to their incubation.

Popular Fabrics for Spring Wear

Surah, Taffeta and Satin in Lead-Printed Materials Are in Vogue.

There has been a perceptible slackening in the launching of novel materials this spring, which can be attributed to the increased elaboration of the more basic elements of the mode, notes a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. As long as dresses adhered to the same outline and not greatly changed details, fashion received its essential variation through numerous new materials, and now that a new silhouette and ornate details have entered the mode there is less need for elaborate fabrics—and consequently fewer new materials.

Printed crepes, de chine, marocain, georgette, chiffon and alpaca are very popular in Paris this spring. The designs are smaller than last year, though some large flower-patterns are promised for the mid-season summer collections. Spots are very much in favor, both the small, closely-packed sort the size of a pea, dotted regularly all over the material, and those of varied sizes scattered here and there. Small conventional designs are very prominent, especially the flower and leaf patterns in black on a light ground which are arranged in squares. Surah and taffeta are two materials that have emerged from a long stay on the shelf. Both are charmingly novel to the young, and awaken delightful memories of past triumphs in the minds of those whose youth is fast becoming a dim recollection. For the smart silk tailor-made for town wear both are incomparably smart.

Painted materials are new and are enjoying an increasing vogue. The most modish are similar to the quiet, discreet designs and colors used by Renee. Geometrical designs on woolen and silk fabrics are carried out in self tones in a darker shade than the material they decorate. This fashion was first launched by Madame Agnes for her hats and scarves, but the Paris couture was quick to appreciate its beauty, and the success of painted stuffs seems to be assured for the present season.

Color shows more novelty than materials. After an unbroken popularity of at least three seasons, red is likely to be eclipsed by the new petunia and purple shades. Bois de rose has ousted golden beige from its long vogue. Blue, navy and the lighter shades from bleu de France and cornflower to delft and turquoise blue are strong favorites. Gray is distinguished. Indeed, now that pale complexions are replacing last year's copper tints, the harmony of gray is certain to appeal to women with an eye for nuance.

Stripes Run Two Ways in True Paris Fashion

This washable silk sports frock affords a novelty in that the stripes run two ways, a popular fashion in Paris. The hand embroidery motif at the hip adds an interesting touch.

THE FORMAL WARM WEATHER ENSEMBLE.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Since the day the transparent coat dawned georgette has regained much of its lost popularity. Heavy-weight chiffon cloths have also come to be in demand, for, while many women want just a suggestion of the pattern which figures the frock beneath to show a coat's coat, for all that and should have some weight. A deep border of tucks makes an excellent finish for a flimsy one, and if the pleats are repeated on the dress, so much the better.

Point Venice, Crepe and Pleats—Happy Trio.

Printed dresses are certainly a style factor just now, and one need never hesitate in combining them with plain materials, provided the choice of material is correct. The choice of material is correct. The frock sketched has a long bodice of Point Venice lace, which implies that it is for that June wedding, or the great day when the proud mother is present at the graduation exercises. It may be of lavender or almond green, since these shades have so much to recommend them. Or it may be of any of the yellows, springlike greens, or it may be of gray, taupe, or periwinkle, to say nothing of bois de rose.

The newer ensembles are to be distinguished by their tendency to coats which are more sumptuous than the dress, instead of merely matching it, as was the first interpretation of the ensemble.

THE WHY, WHEN AND WHERE OF FASHION.
When Colored Stockings Were Worn Before.
Wearing light and colored stockings in place of black ones is nothing new, though history tells us that black was always accepted as the gentleman's color. Women, however, frequently preferred bright hues, black having come into high association.

In Spain, for instance, when a team broke was found guilty of murder, the courts forced his servants to don black hose.

The colored dress of each American lady showed a preference for light stockings, though the more often called for white rather than be seen in the lower class of life. In 1550 the women of New England wore a gown in yellow stockings while later gown became the fashionable color. In Virginia some York were blue wanted stockings with bright red clocks. Because so many of these institutions in England had their inmates dressed in blue that color was considered an odd for the ladies. This was the case until about 1750 when the term "blue stockings" originated, meaning society people with a penchant for literature.

Clocks were early in use to add to the fanciful effect of hosiery. All over clocks were mentioned in 1614, and golden thread clocks in 1674.

Bureau of Frauds Will Keep Busy

Attorney General Ottinger's Determination to Drive Stock Swindlers From State Insured by Court Decisions Sustaining His Right to Appoint Employees.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, May 14.—(Special)—Supreme Court Justice Gilbert D. B. Hasbrouck of Kingston, who recently sustained the contention of Attorney General Ottinger to the effect that certain appointments made to the bureau of frauds in his department without consulting state civil service lists need not receive the approval and certification of the state civil service commission, has been upheld unanimously by the appellate division, third department.

The bureau of frauds was created by act of the legislature of the present year to increase the scope of the attorney general to enforce the Marston act aimed to suppress the operations of those who deal in worthless stock and securities.

The state civil service commission refusing to certify to the payroll containing the names of the bureau of frauds selected by Attorney General Ottinger, the matter was taken to court and Justice Hasbrouck held that the salaries must be paid.

Attorney General Ottinger declared today that the controversy did not interfere with the campaign he was waging against unscrupulous dealers in stocks and bonds. He said:

"This litigation has not interfered with our campaign against fake stock promoters and swindlers. We have conducted our drive against the crooks according to our original plans. Nothing can interfere with this work. I am determined to drive the swindlers out of the state."

ECZEMA

IT IS only since the time of Hebra, the great Vienna dermatologist, that this disease of the skin has had a scientific basis; before that, almost any skin disease about which a doctor was uncertain he would label "eczema" or "salt-rheum" or "tetter."

If on the head of a child, it was called "scald head" or "milk crust." Eczema comes in a hundred forms. It is the skin crying out from bad treatment.

It is constitutional, or it may come from local irritation of any kind and may be present at any period of life, alike in males and females.

When constitutional, it spells weakness or bad nerves or poor nutrition or some fault in taking up and assimilating the food.

It may also be distinctly an inflammatory disease, lasting a few days or an indefinite period with symptoms which may be mild or severe.

The common symptom is burning or itching, which often is worse at night. The more one scratches the skin, the worse the eruption becomes. Frequently there is a watery or sticky discharge, and when this dries it may thicken or cake in scales, lumps, and crusts.

If this crust is removed, the underlying surface will be found fiery red and will bleed freely.

Often there are cracks in the skin which are sore and painful and heal slowly, especially in cold weather.

There may be merely a reddened surface, dry or moist, scaly or crusty with a crop of pimples.

But these pimples may become blisters which coalesce and cover a large area.

If the fluid in these vesicles becomes purulent one may have a sore which may discharge indefinitely.

When on the face and scalp it may be mistaken for erysipelas.

Eczema may occur on any portion of the body, or it may involve every inch of the skin and the treatment of such cases is very difficult.

In treating it the cause must be found and removed if possible. Moisture and air must usually be excluded from it and it must be protected by ointments, dusting powders and bandages, but seldom by lotions and watery fluids.

The bowels must be kept open and when the eruption has healed, hot, cold, or carbonic acid baths may be used. Acid fruits, shell-fish, tomatoes and any other food that is irritating must be omitted, also alcohol and tobacco.

Good dusting powders are talc, dry wheat flour, bismuth or zinc. Tar, zinc or lead are often used in ointments for eczema; and tonics, including iron, quinine, strychnia, arsenic, and cod-liver oil are frequently of service. Exercise must be regulated and the general condition improved.

American Fights Deportation

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, May 14.—The appeal of Homer Lane, an American psychoanalyst, formerly of Detroit and Boston, against deportation, was heard today in General Sessions. The state presented a number of letters, affectionate in tone, which the state contended furnished grounds for the deportation of Lane, as ordered following his trial recently.

The Bishop of London, who testified in behalf of Lane during his trial, appeared again to aid Lane. A fashionable crowd of women was in the court room.

Today We Celebrate

ST. PAULA.
St. Paula was a Roman lady of noble birth and great learning. She embraced Christianity, and when she became a widow, she retired to Bethlehem, where she built a monastery, and led a very devoted ascetic life. St. Jerome was the director of her charitable institutions, and he also taught her to read the Scriptures in Hebrew. She died in 407 aged sixty.

It is said that she was descended from the families of the Gracchi and Scipios.

RAILROAD IMPORTS.
As everybody knows, the United States is the country that has more railroad mileage than any other country.

It is therefore somewhat surprising to learn that the first material for the building of such a road had to be imported from England. It was on May 14, 1829, that the ship Alexander arrived in the harbor of Baltimore from Liverpool with 50 tons of iron and equipment for the construction of the first railroad in the United States.

Today things are changed. It is the United States which is now exporting railroad equipment all over the world. Other remarkable events that took place on this date are: 1804—Lewis and Clarke expedition left St. Louis for the Northwest.

1854 One hundred ships reported lost off the British coast in 30 days. 1884—Metropolitan National Bank of New York failed for $4,000,000.

THE DAY IN HISTORY.

N. Y. AMERICAN LEGION EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, May 14.—The American Legion of New York has launched an intensive state-wide educational campaign to bring the benefits of the Citizens' Military Training Camps to the attention of eligible young men and their parents. The campaign opened in all counties of the state today and will continue until Saturday.

Colonel H. C. Wilder, chairman of the State Military Affairs Committee of the legion, announced today that legion posts throughout the state will send out four-minute speakers to make talks of the camps at theaters, schools, and other public gatherings.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, May 14.—There will be an "Old Fashioned Dime Social" in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening, May 18th, beginning at seven thirty o'clock. There will be games for children, young people and adults.

CAMPAIGN HERE FOR N. Y. STATE COLLEGE HALL.

More than 4,000 alumni of New York State College for Teachers at Albany, the only high school teacher training institution of the state, will tonight start a campaign to raise $200,000 for a residence hall for the college. Although the student body of State College is nearly 1,100, no dormitories are provided for the students, who live in lodging houses.

The campaign will start with a dinner to be held in two score or more cities and towns where there are groups of alumni. The largest will be held in Albany at the Hotel Tuxedo. From it will be broadcast a musical program of State College singers, and speeches by the president of the college, and the campaign chairman. This will be broadcasted from station WGY at Schenectady.

The local gathering to start the campaign will be held this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Staywheat Hotel. The speaker at the dinner will be Miss Agnes Kuller, a member of the faculty of New York State College. There are 45 alumni and former students in the local group.

The individual quota of the campaign is $39 and every alumna or alumnae and every former student is being urged to give that amount, or to raise it for the fund. Fifteen hundred of the alumni have already contributed about $100,000. The remainder are trying to raise $150,000 and the city of Albany which profits most from the presence there of the State College, has been asked to raise a like amount, thus completing the $400,000 objective.

No Increase in the Price of Firestone FULL-SIZE GUM-DIPPED BALLOONS

The extra quality built in by the extra process of Gum-Dipping, the economy of these wonderful tires and the added mileage obtained from them during the past two years, has created such a large demand that over 75% of Firestone's mammoth production is now Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords.

This has greatly increased the total sales volume and the huge Firestone factories are now working on a 24-hour schedule to supply the demand.

This large volume, produced under the most economical tire manufacturing methods, permits Firestone to sell these extra-process Full-Size Balloons at no extra cost to car owners. And this in the face of greatly advanced cost for crude rubber brought about by the operation of the British Rubber Restriction Act.

Gum-Dipping means longer mileage—greater economy—at no extra cost to you!

Enjoy the safety, economy and comfort of Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords this summer. Let us equip your car now at low cost—with liberal allowance for your old tires.

Teacher's Tribute To Dr. Michael

At the meeting of the Highland Schoolmen's Club held in Newburgh May 8 after the regular program, Mr. Van Ingen, principal of Kingston High School, was called upon to present Dr. Michael, superintendent of schools of this city. Mr. Van Ingen said, "In any vocation in life, especially in the teaching profession, it is unusual for one to serve for fifty uninterrupted years—a half century. It is perhaps even more unusual for a man to enter the life of a community as a school executive for thirty years. This is the unusual and happy experience of one of our members here tonight and I wish to propose the following toast: An honest man, a noble American citizen, a leader of men, a lover and friend of youth, a splendid executive, an inspiring adviser and a sympathetic friend of teachers, loved by all, respected by all, admired for deep unswerving devotion to principle and for stability and depth of character, a Christian gentleman—our superintendent, Dr. M. J. Michael, one of the most beloved men in our city—Kingston."

ROADS TO NEW T. B. CAMP.

Van Keuren Guarantees $500 Toward Construction at New Site.
May 14, 1925.

To the Editor of The Freeman:
Sir:—I notice in your issue of May 13th in the account of the meeting of the board of health in reference to the location of a Tuberculosis Hospital, lands for which I have offered the County of Ulster without cost to it, that Mayor Block is credited with saying that "it was an ideal site but there were no roads and to construct the roads would prove too expensive." From such information as I can get it would appear that the expense of improving the road which now does actually run to the proposed Tuberculosis Camp site will not be excessive as compared with the great results which would be obtained if this camp is placed in this particular location, which the mayor states is an ideal one.

At the meeting of the Tuberculosis Committee there was without effort pledged the sum of $250 as a starter toward the improvement of the road and due to my interest in the activities of the Tuberculosis Hospital I now guarantee to increase this initial fund to $500 and honestly believe that the location which I stand, at any time, ready to contribute to the county of Ulster without cost to the county, will not only be of interest and benefit to the Tuberculosis patients, but will be of interest to the taxpayers of the county as well.

Very truly yours,
W. W. VAN KEUREN.

Ford May Operate Merchant Fleet

But Most of War-Time Vessels Would Have to be Scrapped—Would Buy if Price Were Right.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., May 14.—Operation of a merchant fleet under the direction of Henry Ford was in prospect today with the announcement that he was considering the purchase of 400 steel vessels from the United States Shipping Board.

The announcement was made by T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, chairman of the shipping board, after a two days' conference with Ford.

The ships are a dead loss where they lie at anchor now, requiring huge annual outlay to prevent deterioration.

"Most of the shipping board vessels are pretty small for our purposes," said Ford in discussing the report. "We might buy them if the price were right, but it is only those around 12,000 tons that would be suitable for our use. The others would have to be scrapped."

Ford said, too, that he would be careful to see that any boats he bought were built right. "A lot of the shipping board vessels were thrown together at a time when everyone was crazy," he said. "Some are not strong and others have poor engines."

The question of price still remains to be settled.

O'Connor indicated that the government would not split hairs on that point. The Fords said they would pay little more for the vessels than they would pay for scrap, since much of the fleet would have to be scrapped and the remainder reconditioned at great expense.

"We could not use more than a few, maybe 16 or 20 if we used any," said Ford.

The purchase would take about one-third the vessels remaining in the shipping board fleet. The wood bottoms are already disposed of, O'Connor said.

Noted Tenor for Students' Concert

Annual Concert of High School Orchestra and Girls' Glee Club on May 22 to Have Assistance of Boston Singer.

Paul Thayer, tenor soloist of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, will be the soloist at the annual concert given by the High School Orchestra and Girls' Glee Club at the High School Auditorium on Friday evening, May 22. The high school student body is fortunate in securing Mr. Thayer as soloist for their annual concert and Kingston people are fortunate in having a tenor of his ability appear here at that time.

The High School Orchestra with fifty members and the Girls' Glee Club with a membership of thirty-three members has prepared a program which will include numbers of special appeal to everyone, no matter what their particular taste for music may be. The program will include a wide range of numbers from the old time music to classics. Mr. Thayer will be accompanied at the piano by Samuel D. Scudder, Jr.

Tickets for the concert, which will commence at 8:15 o'clock, are on sale and may be secured from all members of the High School Orchestra, Glee Club and Band. Proceeds of the concert will be devoted to the purchase of band uniforms for the high school.

The complete organization will go to Saugerties on Thursday, May 21, where a concert will be given at the Saugerties High School in the evening.

Last year the concert given by the High School Orchestra and Glee Club was a decided success and the program this year promises to be even better. The members of the orchestra have been practicing together for some time and have become accustomed to playing in public, giving to each member a feeling of confidence which will be reflected in the several numbers played by the orchestra next week at their annual concert.

Playlets at West Park Orphanage

The entertainment given by the orphans of the West Park Orphanage each Sunday afternoon, at the orphanage, has been pleasing large attendances. The delightful entertainment staged by the children reflects much credit upon the Sisters, who have devoted much time and effort in drilling the children. The large crowds in attendance each Sunday have been very gratifying and encouraging.

The orphans will repeat the entertainment each Sunday in May and the first Sunday in June. A bus leaves the Central Post Office each Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock to convey all those from this city who are desirous of attending. A nominal sum is charged, the proceeds of which will go toward the fund for the erection of the new wing.

SHOKAN.
Shokan, May 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Poggenburg and Mrs. Peck and family have arrived at their summer homes for the season.

A small army of the men folks were called out for fire fighting on High Point mountain last Sunday.

A party of picknickers carelessly set fire to the woods on Winchell's farm last Sunday, which made a hot two hours work for six men before it was extinguished. People who are so careless should not be allowed to run around loose.

Mr. and Mrs. Weed have returned from Florida where they spent the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig are visiting Mrs. Craig's mother, Mrs. E. Every. Mr. Rowe will open his moving picture show on Friday evening, May 22, at Winchell's Hall.

The Community Club held their final meeting for the season on Tuesday night. The funds remaining in the treasurer's hands were donated to the Boys' Class of the Reformed Church. The club expects to renew their weekly meetings again in the fall.

Reggie Davis is employed at Winchell's store.

Next Smith is busy painting. The ladies of the Old School Baptist Church have enjoyed their annual church cleaning, and the old church is now shining inside.

Neil Woodrum and Earl Elmendorf are the latest additions to the New York city force of workmen.

Daring Bandits Get Big Payroll

Take $20,000 From Bank Messengers
In Factory Vestibule, Fire One Shot and Escape in Waiting Automobile.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Cambridge, Mass., May 14.—Six armed bandits at the point of revolvers today held up two messengers of the First National Bank of Boston and escaped with the $20,000 payroll of Lever Brothers, soap manufacturing company.

The holdup, the most daring in years, was staged in the vestibule of the Lever Brothers big factory, No.
184 Broadway.

The bandits fled in an automobile, carrying the registration plates issued to a Waltham citizen.

One shot was fired by the bandits to keep the messengers back as the flight was made to the bandit car.
The shot went over the heads of the messengers.

The messengers, Alfred Kelly and Harold Cooney, drove up to the soap factory in the car of the Boston bank, driven by Thomas J. Hoban. The messengers carried two money boxes, containing the $20,000 payroll.

As the messengers entered the vestibule five holdup men, all unmasked, rushed forward with drawn revolvers,
crying: "Throw up your hands."

A sixth bandit stood beside the bandit car drawn up at the curbstone nearby.

Snatching the money boxes from the arms of the bank messengers, the five highway men ran to their automobile.

In almost less time than it takes to write it they had entered the automobile and were speeding away down
Broadway.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 14.—Traders in the motor utility, oil, and specialty stocks entered the stock market on the selling side today to take accumulated profits on stocks which have been rising steadily for a week or more, while bearish traders were more persistent in "reaching for the top" in the same stocks.

Buying was not as pronounced as selling and industrial stock leaders which reached higher levels in the early trading were unable to maintain that position.

Copper stocks responded in good form to the reports of heavy consumption of the red metal. American Smelting gained two points, Utah
Copper was up two; Anaconda, Chile, Incorporated, Cerro de Pasco and Kennecott up 1 1/2.

The move in copper stocks failed to attract a following, and it was wound up almost as quickly as it came in.
Then the market entered another period of dullness.

Both the grain and cotton markets recovered sharply. May wheat advanced six cents a bushel in Chicago and July cotton gained about $1.50 a bale in the New York Exchange.

A number of the high priced speculative stocks hung up high record prices in the early trading. The list included DuPont at 150, United Drug at 127 and United Fruit at 212.

Jazz Path Leads To Tuberculosis

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 14.—This jazz generation is dancing, smoking, drinking and cabaretting itself along a straight road to tuberculosis, it was declared today by Dr. Charles Overton, Hampshire, L. I., at the convention of the Medical Society of the State of New York.

Late hours, dissipation and high life are directly responsible for much of the new cases to tuberculosis developing among young people today,
he said.

He added:
"The practices of a great many of the young folks brings on an overcrowding of sanitariums and places where tubercular patients are cared for throughout the country.

"There is a certain amount of tuberculosis in most of us and high life, late hours, cabarets and dissipation lessens the resistance toward it.
"Parents who are careful overcome tuberculosis infection by proper feeding and keeping the children from persons apt to be infected.

"Then when the child grows up, as at present, he believes that unless he 'steps' he is not living. The truth is if he steps too much, he will not live long. The slightest case of bronchial, pneumonia, diphtheria or scarlet fever starts the little infection of infancy anew and before long we have what is known as active tuberculosis.

"The present generation will have to adjust itself to a more moderate pace if it wishes to keep the number of tubercular cases down."

To Snap Photos Of Kiwanians

At the weekly noonday luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Y. M. C.
A. today, an interesting talk on "Photography as an Art" was given by Alfred Kohn, the Woodstock photographer, who explained the advance made in the art since its first inception. Mr. Kohn's address proved most interesting and instructive.
At the close of his address Mr. Kohn offered to present the club with a book of photographs of the members of the club. This would be a bound book, giving a photo of each member of each one, and would serve as a permanent record of the club. Mr.
Kohn's offer was accepted and within a short time the members of the club will set for their photographs.

Strong Teams to Oppose Colonials

Sunday the Norwich Team Will Be the Opposition—American Chain Team, Then a Double-Header With the Doherty Silk Sox.

The injury to Bob Coyle's ankle in practice Wednesday may keep him out of the game Sunday when the Colonials play the Norwich team of New York. This will mean that McDermott will be shifted to first and Russell will be started against the down river team.

The Norwich team is considered one of the fastest teams in the Metropolitan district and word has come from the manager that they will exert every effort to win Sunday's game as this will give them prestige among other semi-pro teams as the Colonials are considered among the best semi-pro teams in the state.

Sunday, May 24, the American Chain team of Bridgeport will be the attraction at the Fair Grounds. The American Chain club defeated the Poughkeepsie Red Sox team last Sunday and consequently need not introduction in this section. The Doherty Silk Sox will be at the Fair Grounds on Decoration Day for a double-header. Both games will be played in the afternoon. The managers of the Colonials have decided to have both games in the afternoon
so as not to interfere with the exercises in the morning.

The three teams so far lined-up for the Colonials during the remainder of the month indicate the calibre of the opposing teams which the local management is bringing to Kingston. No charge of picking easy teams can be made and the local management is planning to bring teams here at all times which will give the locals a good rub.

Negotiations are now being carried on with big league teams and it is expected that games will soon be closed with big league teams for dates in June, July and August.

Improvements are being made at the Fair Grounds in anticipation of coming crowds during the season.
A number of reserved seats will be sold at the grand stand for 25 cents extra. The concession stand has been leased to Lou Brown and Louis

Sapp. For the players the management has completed the installation of an electric heater for heating water for the shower baths. In addition to this there have been several minor changes made and the playing field greatly improved.

"Inspire" Takes Place of "Obey"

Traditional Marriage Vow Changed
When Actress Marries Mining Engineer—Wedding Ring's New Symbolism.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 14.—"To love, cherish and inspire" took the place of the traditional "to love, honor, and obey" today in an unique marriage ceremony uniting Olive Wyndham, actress, and Andrew White Newberry, mining engineer.

The ceremony was performed according to the rites of the Unity Scientific Christianity Association of New York, of which the bride is a member. The wedding ring was designated as a symbol of spiritual and not a marital marriage.

On the marriage license, Miss Wyndham gave her birthplace as Philadelphia, Pa. The groom gave his as Ithaca, N. Y.

Miss Wyndham was at one time reported engaged to Walter Kirkpatrick Brice, son of the late United States Senator Calvin S. Brice.

Iowan Presented Himself to King

Formalities Lacking When He Greeted England's King at Wembley Fair—King Surprised But Returns Greeting Promptly.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Wembley, England, May 11.—While some Americans spend thousands of dollars to be presented to King George at court and through diplomatic introduction, John Cornie of Iowa brushed aside all formalities today and went up to the king and shook hands with him.

"King George and Queen Mary had come here to visit the exhibition. While they were sightseeing a middle aged man approached the king, put out his hand and said:

"How do you do, king; shake hands with America."
King George was astounded, according to bystanders but smiled, shook hands and said:

"I hope you and all your Americans are feeling well."

Queen Mary smiled at this. Cornie then said:

"Meet my son, king."

Cornie presented his son. King George shook hands good bye with Cornie.

$70,000 FOR HERKIMER TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Herkimer, N. Y., May 14.—Prominent citizens of Herkimer county went "on strike" here Monday.

Dropping their several tasks, bankers, lawyers, club women, farmers, manufacturers, representatives of chamber of commerce and others, journeyed to the county seat from all sections of the county to appear before the Board of Supervisors to ask that an appropriation of $70,000 be made to construct a building for the tuberculosis children of the county.

The appropriation was granted forthwith.

The award of the grant by the Supervisors came as a signal victory for the Herkimer County Tuberculosis Committee following more than a month intensive campaigning, assisted by the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health. No source of arousing public interest in the need for the care and treatment of young children with tuberculosis was overlooked. Pamphlets were circulated by the thousand, meetings were arranged, people throughout the county were interviewed, comment from prominent people outside the county, among them Governor Smith, was solicited and back of the entire campaign were always emphasized the facts in the case; that 30 children had died from tuberculosis in five years, that 86 now have the disease, and more than 400 were contact cases.

Newspaper space is the complete medium of advertising.

Complete, because it will accomplish all things that good advertising may be expected reasonably to accomplish.

It is not an adjunct or a supplement to any other kind of advertising.

For the national advertiser, it insures rapid and thorough retail distribution. Retailers want newspaper-advertised merchandise, because Newspaper advertising sells goods.

That is why the bulk of all advertising appears in the newspapers.

There are other reasons for the supremacy of newspaper advertising, but none so important as this—

It sells merchandise over the counter.
